THE HICKEY FAMILY

MOTTO: Honor Virtutis Praemium

Translation: "Honor is the reward of virtue"

The Hickey family descended from Milesuis, King of Spain, through the line of Heber. The founder of the family was Cormac Cas, son of Olliol Ollum, King of Munster, A.D. 177. The ancient name was Hicidehes, which signifies "The Healer". They were formerly chieftains in Tulla and the islands of Clare. They were for centuries hereditary physicians to the Ua Briains, the MacComaras of Ui Caisin and were compiled in the ninth century. Copies of the work were preserved by several branches of the family until recent times.

The heraldic symbols of the Irish Milesian families were badges of distinction and were the reward of personal merit for some glorious deed or praiseworthy act of the owner.

PATRICK AND MARGARET MESKELL HICKEY

PATRICK HICKEY, was born in Kihmihil, County Clare, Ireland. He was one of six brothers. They were: James, William, Patrick, Michael, Roger, and Thomas Hickey. James and William lived in Tulla, County Clare, Ireland. We have no other information on any of the six Patrick Hickey brothers emigrating from Ireland. Patrick Hickey's wife and four children did immigrate and also a son of Roger Hickey, James E. Hickey.

PATRICK HICKEY married MARGARET MESKELL in County Clare, Ireland. The following children were born to them: JAMES, MICHAEL, NANCY and THOMAS HICKEY. There is no record of Patrick Hickey in America so we are led to believe he died in Ireland. Thomas and Nancy Hickey died in Ohio.

MARGARET MESKELL (MESCALL) HICKEY, wife of Patrick, was born in County Clare, Ireland about 1806. After her coming to America she made her home with her sons' families. She lived with Michael Hickey's in Spring Lake Township, Scott County, MN and with the James Hickeys in Graceville, MN where she died 15 October 1881. Burial was in Lakeside Cemetery, Graceville, MN.

Burial was in the family lot in Lakeside Cemetery, Graceville, MN

James R. Hickey, was one of the youngest and most prominent members of the St. Paul Bar. His parents, James and Catherine Roach Hickey, were among the early pioneers of Minnesota and did their full share in developing the commonwealth to its present proportions. The senior James Hickey died 7 February 1902, a prominent and influential citizen. He had been sent by Arch. Ireland to Graceville, Minnesota as one of the directors to locate settlement there in 1880.

In the case of Peamisel vs the G. Heilman Brewing Company, Mr. Hickey successfully contested the right to recover, on the part of the brewing company, because it had failed to file its articles on incorporation and otherwise comply with the provisions of the then new Summerville Law. This case established the first precedent in Minnesota Law that foreign corporate contracts are void by failure to file the corporation's charter in the office of the secretary of state of this state.

He was influential in establishing some new and important principles in damage law. He was counsel and personally conducted in the Chicago courts, the case involving the disposition of the Florence C. Sullivan Estate, and after a lengthy and well contested legal battle, won for his clients, the heirs of the estate, a judgment of $ 90,000.

“James Hickey was recognized as a leader of the Democratic Party. Mr. Hickey took an active and prominent part in public affairs, having served for three terms on the legislature”. Past and Present of St. Paul, pg 39.

In 1900 he was elected to the legislature as the youngest man ever elected to the state legislature in Minnesota from the fourth ward of St. Paul, the principal district of the city, and during the ensuing sessions made a most intelligent and efficient member, and was a most acceptable representative of his constituency. In 1902 Mr. Hickey was again re-elected from the same district by the largest majority ever given any representative from said district.

It was his efforts that gave us the little black leather edition of the Genealogy of the James Hickey Family.
